Founded in 1853, Arcadia University is a leader in international education. The first group of Beaver College women traveled overseas in 1948 to study the economic effects of World War II in Europe, paving the way for generations of students to study abroad. Over seven decades later, Arcadia University continues to offer excellence in international education and has integrated it as a core component of the higher education experience.
Where will study abroad take you?

Learn and enrich the whole you – from wonderful academic development to personal and professional growth and fulfillment.

It’s Applied Learning in action – learn as you go and use your skills everyday in different situations so when you come home you have a whole new level of confidence and ability.
Arcadia lives up to the mantra of “Learn Everywhere.” Part of studying abroad really made me open my eyes to taking lessons at any and all opportunities. It’s not always about the classroom and it is certainly not always about the grade, but it’s definitely about what you can take away from the lesson.”

Resident Director, Australia

"I was born and raised in a rural community in NSW, Australia. I loved playing any type of sport and was always interested in the biomechanics and physiology of the body and how it moved.

Upon completing school, I selected a combined Physical Education and Recreation course and upon graduation enjoyed my first ‘Study Abroad’ experience by travelling to England and working in a children’s recreation camp. I then travelled through Europe soaking in the remarkable European history and became immediately passionate about travelling; cultures and immersing myself in the experience at hand.

The following year I returned to University to complete a Graduate Diploma in Education and I then taught PE in high school for a few years. The travelling ‘bug’ arose again and I spent the next 18 months working/touring in the UK; Europe; Asia and the USA. One adventure was a ten-week stint coaching soccer in the USA for ‘North American Soccer Camps’. What a tremendous experience to land in New York and coach ‘football’ to US kids for 2/3 months throughout Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. I returned home to complete a Graduate Diploma of Exercise and Sport Science at the University of Sydney, before landing a brilliant job in the Olympic Village at the 2000 Sydney Olympics.

At the completion of the Olympics, I worked as Program Manager for the UNSW Study Abroad office. For the following 13 years I worked within International Education at UNSW, gaining a greater understanding and passion for experiential learning and the immense value of the ‘study abroad’ experience and the benefit that cultural, social and academic immersion can have on the holistic development of an individual. During this time, I completed a Master of Management (Event Management) at UTS, Sydney.

In 2014, I departed International Education for a while to become the Dean of Goldstein College at UNSW. However, the call back to International & Study Abroad education proved strong and I have been with Arcadia University since 2020. Since that time, it has been my absolute pleasure introducing young people to the wonders of the Australian landscape; peoples; flora and fauna and I hope you experience all the wonders Australia has to offer."

WHY NEW ZEALAND WITH ARCADIA ABROAD?

Situated on two beautiful islands anchored in the South Pacific, New Zealand offers strong academic institutions and magnificent natural scenery. It has a temperate climate; strange Middle Earth landscapes that include bubbling mud pools, glaciers, golden sand beaches and snow-capped mountains (geology and film students go crazy); fascinating coursework opportunities; and many adventure activities on offer (commercial bungy jumps and zorbing were invented here). Although New Zealand is English-speaking, and the majority of the population is of European descent, the nation is fiercely proud of being bicultural and there is a strong Māori presence in all aspects of society.

You are going to love our staff in New Zealand who will show you the ropes (literally), take you on many educational adventures and support you throughout your program. Arcadia’s excursions, events and activities draw you into everything this magical country has to offer. Arcadia students in New Zealand tend to bond very well with each other and our staff, creating a close-knit, friendly community that lasts far beyond the program and helps you achieve your personal and academic goals.

+ Auckland - This ‘City of Sails’ has an international, maritime, energetic atmosphere that draws students from around the world.

+ Wellington - On the southern tip of the North Island, this political and cultural capital offers enviable café culture and a passion for film and the arts.

+ Christchurch - ‘The Garden City’ is a picturesque, leafy city surrounded by ocean and mountains and is the central hub of the South Island.

+ Dunedin - Surrounded by rolling countryside, this is a real college town with a fun vibe and easy access to Lord of the Rings landscapes.

This program fosters independence, confidence, leadership and a sense of exploration. You’ll have many opportunities to explore on your own or with other students.

Excursions
From experiencing the Haka, a traditional ancestral war cry and dance from the indigenous Māori people, to kayaking the serene waters of Abel Tasman National Park, or exploring Middle Earth sets from Lord of the Rings, our excursions range from those included as part of your program, to creative, off-the-beaten-track experiences. From local sporting events, to viewpoints only locals know, our excursions throughout New Zealand explore context and use their geographical location as an open classroom.

Keep up with the latest news on what’s happening with our students in New Zealand on the Arcadia New Zealand blog: studyabroad.arcadia.edu/blogs/arcadia-new-zealand

I couldn't have picked a better university or program, it was the perfect place for me and I found a whole different side of me that I didn't know existed.”

Taylor Smith
Austin College, Victoria University of Wellington
Regional Director of Australia and New Zealand

“I am a Kiwi from Auckland and I was definitely curious about the world from an early age. At 19 I left New Zealand in the middle of my B.A. (Auckland University) to work and travel around Europe. Two years later I returned to New Zealand and completed my B.A. in calculus and German, then taught English in Japan for a year, traveled throughout South East Asia and India for seven months and then hitchhiked on my own for six months down from Egypt, to Sudan and from Kenya to Tanzania and Uganda. Determined to be a fabulous English language teacher, I then completed a Grad Dip TEFL at Sydney University and then an M.A. in Applied Linguistics at Victoria University of Wellington. I was immediately offered a job as a lecturer in English language at Basel University in Switzerland and so moved there with husband and child in tow. Our second son was born in Basel and we loved being based in Europe, but after four years, yearnings for family and the wide open spaces of the New Zealand landscape were too much. I took up a learning support role at UNITEC in Auckland and then moved to Queenstown in the South Island where I have been ever since overseeing the Arcadia programs in New Zealand. Being part of someone else's exploration of the world is extremely rewarding. I love my job.”

Jane Gunn-Lewis received her B.A. from the University of Auckland and her M.A. from Victoria University Wellington. Prior to her work with Arcadia, Jane provided learning support for students at UNITEC Institute of Technology in Auckland and was a lecturer at Basel University in Switzerland.
University of Auckland

Established in 1883, the University of Auckland is New Zealand’s largest and highest ranked university, with a thriving international student body. There are hundreds of course options and a focus on STEM studies such as biology, marine studies and engineering, as well as business and Māori and Pacific studies. Field study options available in some areas give you the opportunity to apply the concepts you are learning in the classroom to the real world.

+ The AACSB-accredited business school is located in the ultra-modern, purpose-built Owen G. Glenn Building.
+ The university is home to the Unleash Space, a dedicated space on campus for makers, creators, builders, fabricators, and designers that is free for students to use.
+ Located right downtown, the campus is nearby beautiful beaches and running trails, but still in the heart of the city.
+ With over 200 clubs and sports teams available, there is an activity for everyone - from hiking, to photography, to study clubs – everyone can partake.

University of Canterbury

If you want to combine a strong academic program on a friendly, leafy campus with a lot of outdoor activities and connections to the local community, then Canterbury could be for you. The wide range of courses includes: geology, speech therapy, engineering, forestry, astronomy, biological sciences, business (AACSB-accredited) and entrepreneurship. Students who are looking for an international community in a suburban setting will thrive here.

The university has over 80 clubs and societies for its students to choose from as they view student life a very important aspect of college life.

+ Internship and service-learning courses are offered for humanities, social science and communications students. Placements include: radio presenting, NGOs, and projects focused on community support in the Christchurch area.
+ The university has five field study sites across the South Island, providing opportunities for students of astronomy, geology, environmental research and marine research.

University of Otago

This very popular university attracts students from New Zealand and other countries, giving the campus a welcoming and social feel. Otago offers a wide range of courses, but perhaps it is best known for natural sciences. Many departments offer field study and laboratory elements such as environmental science, geology, and marine biology. It has one of only two medical schools in the country and is very strong in neuroscience and psychology. Political studies, exercise science and nutrition are other areas of excellence.

+ Students live in houses dotted around the periphery of the campus with three or four flatmates including a student Kiwi Host to help give you valuable information and insight into life in Dunedin.

+ The beautiful surrounding natural environment also provides wonderful outdoor activities, from a local penguin reserve to lakes and fjords. Nearby Central Otago is the starting point to many of the ‘Great Walks’ including the Kepler, Routeburn and Milford Tracks.

Victoria University of Wellington

Wellington is the vibrant, political and cultural hub of New Zealand, placed on a beautiful harbor where the Australian and Pacific tectonic plates meet. This unique combination of place and culture is reflected in the wonderful range of course offerings, and the university is a favorite for both domestic and international students, especially those studying in the areas of film, literature, politics and international relations, gender studies, earth sciences, Māori culture and language, music, theater and creative writing.

+ The campus rubs shoulders with parliament, NGOs, key national research and scientific organizations, as well as Weta Workshop (the creators of Lord of the Rings’ visual effects), Te Papa (the Museum of NZ), and the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra.

+ Wellington is buzzing with cafés and restaurants, boutique galleries, independent theaters and cinemas.
