Welcome to Arcadia Abroad

Students from colleges and universities across the U.S (like you!) have been studying abroad with Arcadia for over 70 years. Join the more than 70,000 students who have learned, grown, and adventured with Arcadia Abroad!

+ Over 100 programs offering applied learning opportunities in 10 dynamic countries
+ Wide range of disciplines and programs around the world
+ Programs to fit your schedule – from semester to summer to academic year
+ Support to increase your access to study abroad in ways that matter
+ Arcadia staff around the world to help you make the most of your journey.
Amplify your Learning while you Explore the World

Arcadia Abroad opens up exciting new worlds to you - new countries and new cultures, and also new ways of learning where you get practical experience applying what you learn in your courses. Grow and learn with new friends, mentors, and teachers from around the world!

You’ll enjoy the challenge of strong academics, and you’ll apply that learning in new places, with different people and in cultural situations you would never see at home. AND… you’ll have fun along the way as you share life-changing experiences with other students and locals alike.

You’ll come back to your home campus with dynamic stories and knowledge, and have credits in your back pocket.

Your new level of understanding of how your learning impacts the world will transform you. Become more than the sum of your learning with your study abroad adventure!

Founded in 1853, Arcadia University is a leader in international education. The first group of Beaver College women traveled overseas in 1948 to study the economic effects of World War II in Europe, paving the way for generations of students to study abroad. Over seven decades later, Arcadia University continues to offer excellence in international education and has integrated it as a core component of the higher education experience.
Will I have authentic involvement in the local community?

Will this program give me the best academic experience?

What life skills will I take away from this?

How will this experience be meaningful for me?

Where will study abroad take you?

From distinct academic development to personal and professional growth and fulfillment, studying with Arcadia Abroad is Applied Learning in action – learn as you go and use your skills everyday in different situations. When you come home, you’ll have a whole new level of confidence and ability.
Where will study abroad take you?

Our goal is to help you amplify your journey intellectually with contextualized academic study; authentically with community engagement; personally through your choice of adventures; and professionally with high-impact experiences in applied learning.

LEADERSHIP

COMMUNICATION SKILLS

INDEPENDENCE  PROBLEM SOLVING

CRITICAL THINKING  RESPONSIBILITY  EMPATHY

CULTURAL AWARENESS

Exploring

All programs include guided visits to everywhere from historical landmarks, bucket-list venues, to key local community hotspots - including many off-the-beaten-track experiences.

Magnifying

Meaningful and challenging experiences add depth to your résumé and show employers and graduate schools you’ve done and learned MORE.

Building

From trying a new sport or joining a club or society, to attending Arcadia-organized social events, there will be many ways for you to connect with other students and share your adventures.

Contributing

Join volunteer organizations to give back to local communities or causes. Help empower an organization’s impact on your adopted community!

“Arcadia lives up to the mantra of “Learn Everywhere.” Part of studying abroad really made me open my eyes to taking lessons at any and all opportunities. It’s not always about the classroom and it is certainly not always about the grade, but it’s definitely about what you can take away from the lesson.”

WHY ENGLAND & WALES WITH ARCADIA ABROAD?

Whether you are looking for the fast-paced excitement of London, one of the world’s most cosmopolitan cities; a funky charismatic city such as Manchester; or the Celtic experience in Bangor, England and Wales offer a variety of locations, institutions, study levels and experiences.

London - A melting pot of cultures, this city is always busy, offering everything you’d expect from a global capital on the edge of Europe, from vibrant urban life to historic gardens and world-class museums. A wide choice of programs means there is something for everyone here.

England - This historic and beautiful country radiates charm and friendliness. Think about the type of experience you want: urban or rural? Are outdoor activities important to you? How about the academic opportunities? Each institution offers something different.

Wales - Around 250 miles north west of London, amidst stunning scenery and a community feel, you’ll find Bangor offers a friendly, smaller location.

- Staff at the Arcadia London Center take care of all our students in England and Wales, from orientation right through the entire program.
- You’ll have a choice of exciting excursions, social events and activities through Arcadia and your institution to help you get to know your location, the culture and the community, and students from all over the world.
- Arcadia’s London programs use the city as your classroom, so faculty take you out into the streets and neighborhoods of the city to experience your subject first-hand.

LEARN EVERYWHERE.
Beyond the Classroom

We want you to learn as much outside the classroom as possible in different ways.

Site Visits
Learn where the action is - be it in a sea vessel studying marine life in Wales; visiting the Houses of Parliament for a politics course or exploring London for an architecture class.

Volunteering/Service Learning
Our center staff organize many ways in which you can engage meaningfully with charitable organizations and the local communities to give back in some small way.

Events & Activities
Sometimes all it takes to make friends or feel involved is a social event such as a rugby match or comedy night. The Talk of the Town series of pub discussions with guest speakers is always popular!

Self-exploration
Our staff are on-hand to offer advice, ideas and support for your own journeys, activities and adventures outside the classroom in the U.K. or beyond.

England & Wales Excursions
From iconic imperial monuments to modern multicultural communities; from a global metropolis to hidden gardens and places inspirational in art, literature and science - our excursions range from those included as part of your course, to creative, off-the-beaten track experiences you wouldn’t find on your own. Excursions from Arcadia and our partner institutions in England and Wales explore your location, give it context and help you feel involved.
England & Wales Sample Excursions

England

Stonehenge & Bath Day Trip
Visit the World Heritage Sites of Stonehenge (1000-16000 BC) and Bath, the beautiful Roman town with natural hot springs and literary connections to great authors such as Jane Austin.

Adventure Weekend in Wales
Ditch the city to experience the beautiful landscapes of the Pembrokeshire coast. Have fun making friends while sea kayaking, surfing and coasteering led by experienced guides.

Day Trip Within England
Hop on one of our many day trips to famous places such as the Queen’s Windsor Castle, Henry the VIII’s Hampton Court, The Beatles’ home of Liverpool, Brighton, Oxford or Cambridge.

Regional Trip
Arcadia students from Scotland, Ireland, England and Wales all team up for this excursion to one of our locations - Dublin, Belfast, Edinburgh, London, even Hadrian’s Wall.

Wales

European City Break
A fun group visit to Paris. Guided tours of key sites, transport, accommodation and meals included. We pack a lot in!
London Sample Excursions

Harry Potter Studio Tour
Explore behind the scenes of the Warner Bros. Studio with this fun tour of the most successful film series of all time: the props, the sets, Platform 9 ¾ and The Hogwarts Express!

London Street Art Tour
A guided stroll through London’s edgy East End and discover how street art re-imagines city life and helps you see the Hidden London.

Theater
When in London, you must see a show in the West End. From Shakespeare to fringe theatre, it’s got it all.

Hidden London Experiences
Let us explore less well-known parts of London such as Kew Gardens, Sky Garden and Borough Market, Cat Cafe, Little Venice and Primrose Hill, Hyde Park Cycling, or Hampstead Heath.

Sporting Events
Group attendance at one of the famous sporting events that the British public love such as a cricket match at Lords, Royal Ascot horse racing, Rugby at Twickenham or a Premier League soccer game.
Housing

Arcadia programs ensure that your living accommodations bring you opportunities to integrate with other students and local communities. Most student residences in England and Wales feature apartment-style living with single or twin bedrooms and shared kitchen, living and bathroom facilities and easy access to food stores. A weekend homestay excursion is available - in rural, suburban and urban communities.

Arcadia London Center
studyabroad.arcadia.edu/london-center

Our local staff and faculty in London look after all our students in England and Wales from the hub of activity that is our London Center. All orientations, events and excursions are organized through the center and are open to all students. For London students - we can show you the insider’s view of the city and support you all the way; for those further afield, we visit and keep in touch to ensure you settle in well, academically and socially, and help you make the most of your opportunities.

+ Located in Bloomsbury, the convenient university quarter of the city, the center is a short walk from central partner institutions, the West End Theatre District and Covent Garden, with museums, shops, restaurants and entertainment venues close by.

+ Facilities include: courtyard with BBQ; lounge; classrooms; meeting rooms; computer lab; printers; free Wi-Fi; TV; fax; student life office; and a writing center for one-to-one mentoring and support from our program faculty.

+ The busy center is always jam-packed with events, social gatherings and students.

+ Staff contactable 24/7 for emergencies.

+ Center blog at: studyabroad.arcadia.edu/blogs/arcadia-england

“...a born and bred Brit and London has been my adopted home for more than 30 years - the same amount of time that I have been working with students on study abroad programs. The opportunity to introduce you to this wonderful city and the rest of ‘this sceptered isle’ is one I truly relish. Never has there been a more fascinating time to study here whilst we wrangle with the questions of national identity and our relationship with the rest of Europe. This is a city and land of limitless possibilities and we are here to help you make sense of it all and find your own place in this fascinating and incredibly diverse community.”
London is one of the most popular study abroad destinations for American students and it’s easy to see why - you’re in the heart of one of the world’s most exciting and innovative cities, with a multicultural population and a melting pot of ideas, industries and activities. Students from all over the world come to the city to learn, mingle and experience the world stage.

This program is an affordable, flexible and fascinating way to live, learn and experience all that London has to offer. It’s also a travel hub, offering easy access to the rest of the U.K., Europe and beyond.

+ Let the city be your classroom - Arcadia’s courses take you out into the city streets and neighborhoods to learn first-hand and give context to your studies. You may visit galleries, theaters, historical sites, local communities and markets.

+ You will choose a Cornerstone Course incorporating a range of subjects examining history, literature and sociology connected to the city. You will then also choose from a broad range of courses taught by Arcadia faculty in our center and/or take courses with Arcadia partner institutions alongside British students (tuition fees vary).

+ Program includes a mid-semester reading week, which is a break from classes for self-study.

What a boost to your résumé to have internship experience in one of the world’s most dynamic global capitals. We have a wide range of placement opportunities - whatever you’re looking for you’ll most likely find it in London. You’ll engage with London as both a professional and a student, interning eight hours a day, three full days per week.

The program includes an Internship Cornerstone Course, which comprises a placement and a research project as well as time for reflection with your own academic supervisor. This one-to-one attention helps you to choose your topic of research and to connect your experience with your career aspirations. The paper associated with your project also acts as a great writing sample for graduate school and employment applications.

You will also choose three courses from a varied selection at Arcadia - from business and marketing to the arts. You can also opt to take a course from the wide range available through one of our partner institutions (tuition fees vary):

- City, University of London
- Goldsmiths, University of London
- Queen Mary University of London
- London College of Fashion, University of the Arts

Excursions, events and activities are organized by our staff at the Arcadia London Center to ensure you also experience the cultural, historical and social highlights of London.

Supplemental application materials are required for these programs. Prior work/volunteer experience and related coursework in your intended area are a plus.

Parliamentary Internship Placement

Are you fascinated by British or international politics and public policy? The Parliamentary internship placement may be the option for you. As the political center of the U.K., and at a time of major debate about Brexit, this would be an exciting time to be at the heart of the national legislature.

As a Parliamentary intern, you will contribute to the everyday operations of important figures in British politics and develop an insider’s understanding of how the British legislature – the House of Commons and the House of Lords – turns policy ideas into law.

You will have close contact with constituents and the workings of the political communication process, along with hands-on duties. This is a great way to learn about the British system, and compare and contrast it with the U.S. system.

POSSIBLE PLACEMENT AREAS:

+ Advertising, accounting, entrepreneurship, marketing, business operations
+ Law, politics (including Parliament)
+ Film & television, journalism, public relations, theater
+ Non-governmental organizations, psychology, hospitality management

London Internship Program Summer

This is your chance to explore the excitement of London in summer while gaining valuable résumé-building skills and experience in a placement that fits with your professional and academic goals. Affordable, accessible and tailored to your needs - this program is a popular choice.

+ Your internship course includes your placement for three days a week, and a related project to give context to your experience. This reflection will help you think about how your program connects to your career aspirations - a great preparation for future graduate school and employment applications!
+ You’ll also choose an elective from the wide selection of courses at the Arcadia London Center, from business to the arts.

studyabroad.arcadia.edu/london-internship-summer
On this innovative program, you will challenge your critical thinking skills, earn valuable research credits and experience all the wonderful things London has to offer during the summer, without disrupting your academic schedule at home.

+ Dedicated projects for students may include: cardiovascular biology; cell and molecular biology; developmental biology; molecular and microbiology; orthopedic imaging; parasitology; reproduction and more.

+ Your research will be conducted alongside industry professionals at the prestigious Royal Veterinary College (RVC), a leader in the field of biomedical sciences.

Past project examples include:

+ New Roles of Metabolic Hormones in Inflammation
+ Does B-Catenin Signalling Promote Ageing Of Endothelial Cells?
+ Glial Response to Altered Inhibition in the Developing Cortex
+ Microrna Regulation of Embryonic Cell Development
+ Investigating Cellular Senescence in the Aetiology of Tendinopathies
+ Regulating Mitochondrial Dynamics to Protect Brain Cells From Energy Stress

Conduct your own research project at one of the world's leading institutions with this unique program at The School of Biomedical Engineering and Imaging Sciences (BMEIS) at King's College London. The program is designed to develop your academic knowledge and skills as a foundation for postgraduate study, while giving you the independence to conduct your research under the supervision of an experienced advisor.

BMEIS's research focuses on applying fundamental engineering techniques to address clinical problems. The School is based at St Thomas' Hospital in central London and works collaboratively with clinicians to ensure that its work is directed towards unmet patient needs. Your project will fit within these goals.

+ In addition to your chosen project work in the lab and studying, you’ll attend seminars on academic writing, meet with your advisor weekly and have the option of attending additional seminars on discipline-specific skills.

Past project examples include:

+ Denoising X-Ray Fluoroscopy Images Using Deep Learning
+ Echocardiography Simulation for Deep Learning Applications
+ Development and Evaluation of Robot Ablation Catheter System for Cardiac Ablation Therapy
+ Development and Evaluation of Robot Trans-Septal Puncture System
+ Development and Evaluation of Cardiac Phantoms for Cardiac Ablation Therapy

WHY SCOTLAND WITH ARCADIA ABROAD?

Scotland is a land of craggy mountaintops, deep valleys, shimmering lochs, mysterious castles and rocky seascapes, occupying the northernmost portion of Great Britain. The staggering beauty of its landscapes is rivaled only by its rich history and Celtic culture and language. Since 1976, Arcadia has had programs in Scotland and our connections here run deep.

All our students in Scotland are cared for by our staff and faculty in the Arcadia Edinburgh Center, ensuring they get the attention they need, both academically and personally, to make their program a success, as well as plenty of opportunities to learn outside the classroom about the country, its people and culture. Scotland’s current exciting political debates around identity and Scotland’s place within Great Britain, Europe and the world make this a fascinating time to study here.

+ Edinburgh, the ‘festival city’ is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, offering a beautiful, friendly urban environment, full of fascinating places to explore.

+ Glasgow is Scotland’s largest city. It has a vivacious, creative and edgy feel, with magnificent art collections and a lively music and theater scene along with multicultural street markets, cafés and street scenes.

+ Aberdeen’s coastal location at the gateway to The Highlands gives it a friendly, picturesque feel which attracts many visitors, including Britain’s Royals. You are only a scenic train ride from Edinburgh, and its airport gives good access to the rest of the U.K. and Europe.

+ St Andrews is a bustling market and university town with a medieval flavor. As the home of golf, it offers gorgeous coastal scenery and leisure pursuits in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere.

+ Stirling, with its steep and winding cobblestoned streets leading up to its eponymous castle, offers an intimate, quaint and truly charming setting where students quickly become part of the local scene.

LEARN EVERYWHERE.
Beyond the Classroom

We want you to learn as much outside the classroom as possible in different ways.

Site Visits
Learn where the action is - be it visiting the battlefield of Culloden as you study the significance of what happened there, or exploring heritage sites to better understand their unique qualities.

Volunteering/Service Learning
Our center staff organize many ways in which you can engage meaningfully with charitable organizations and the local communities to give back in some small way.

Events & Activities
Sometimes all it takes to make friends or feel involved is a social event such as a rugby match or comedy night. Talks and receptions in the center with guest speakers are always lively and thought provoking!

Self-exploration
Our staff are on-hand to offer advice, ideas and support for your own journeys, activities and adventures outside the classroom in the U.K. or beyond.

Excursions
From historic castles, battlefields and architecture to modern multicultural communities; from traditional ceilidh (kay-lee) fun to hiking, kayaking and Highland Games amid stunning scenery; our excursions range from those included as part of your course, to creative, off-the-beaten-track experiences you wouldn’t find on your own. Excursions from Arcadia and our partner institutions explore your location, give it context and help you feel involved.
Sample Excursions

studyabroad.arcadia.edu/excursions

Highland Activity Weekend
An activity-filled weekend hosted at Firbush Outdoor Centre on the shores of Loch Tay.

Loch Lomond Highland Games
Experience Scotland’s traditional games and take in the scenery from a boat ride on the lake.

Evening with a Scottish Author
Friendly conversation with a talented, published writer.

Highlands Weekend
Explore Loch Ness, a distillery, a sheep dog demonstration, Inverness and Urquhart Castle.

Rosslyn Chapel & the Scottish Borders
Beautiful countryside, sleepy villages, stately homes and mysteries.
I learned how to adapt to a new city with new customs, new slang, new everything. I learned the strength of internal motivation for independent study and exploration. This experience was amazing and most definitely worthwhile.”

Rachael Diament
Brandeis University
University of Edinburgh

Housing

Our programs in Scotland offer a wide variety of accommodation options, depending on your program: apartment style residences with Scottish, other British and international students are popular, where students have fully-fitted kitchens, shared common space and shared en-suite bathrooms. Other choices include more traditional dormitory-style residences with meal plans.

Arcadia Edinburgh Center
studyabroad.arcadia.edu/edinburgh-center

Our staff and faculty in the Arcadia Edinburgh Center look after our students across Scotland from their convenient location on the University of Edinburgh campus. All events, activities and excursions are organized through the center, and our local staff love to show students the insider’s view of this fascinating country. They will support you all the way and keep in touch to ensure you settle in well, academically and socially, and make the most of your opportunities.

+ From guest lectures and academic assistance to social events, homestays and how to understand a Glasgow accent, our center staff enthusiastically help you to enjoy everything Scotland has to offer.

+ Facilities include: Two seminar rooms, study space, student lounge, free Wi-Fi & printing and a video/book library which students are encouraged to use as part of our film club.

+ Staff contactable 24/7 for emergencies.

Director of the Arcadia Edinburgh Center

“I was born and brought up in Scotland, and embrace this country for its scenery, intriguing history, diverse culture and warm, friendly people. I delight in giving students a sense of the past from ancient to modern and a strong sense of Scotland’s place and national identity as we explore this land. The value of thoughtful reflection, the spectacular beauty and rich heritage of Scotland is abundant - my students always return home with a great passion for and affinity with this nation, its inhabitants and its culture.”

Dr. Hamish Thompson received his M.A. in Philosophy from the University of St Andrews and his MSc and Doctorate in Philosophy from the University of Edinburgh. He has taught at the Universities of Stirling, St Andrews, Glasgow and Edinburgh. Hamish has also held faculty appointments at East Tennessee State University, Western Kentucky University and the University of Louisville.
If you’re looking for a program with an exciting international approach to study, mixed with personalized learning and links to industry, then Edinburgh Napier University could be the one for you. Its innovative, energetic style enables Arcadia to offer you a unique experience in Scotland - lots of inspiring courses at Edinburgh Napier and an option to take one of three Arcadia offerings: an internship; an Arcadia Cornerstone Course on Cross-Cultural Travel Writing; or Arcadia supervised independent study.

+ Internship Placement options include: Creative and entertainment industries; marketing and business administration; local government; culture and heritage roles in, for example, a Heritage Museum or a private archaeological company; non-governmental organizations and social business.

+ Travel Writing Cornerstone: Cross-Cultural Travel Writing - explore the history of this unique genre of writing in Scotland as well as the work of Scottish writers abroad. As part of your study, you’ll create a travel blog and a final reflective presentation. Discover Scotland and the world through your own creative impressions and those of others! This course includes a weekend excursion. This course is taught at the Arcadia Edinburgh Center.

+ Independent Study: Work with an Arcadia faculty supervisor on an independent research project to produce an original research paper and presentation of your findings.

+ All the facilities and activities organized by Edinburgh Napier University are open to you. You will be housed with local and other international students.

STEM Summer Research - Aberdeen

Featured disciplines are biomedical science, molecular biology and cell and developmental biology. You will be matched with a senior member of faculty and a project supervisor and perform research at the Institute of Medical Sciences or the Rowett Institute alongside world class research groups.

+ Program includes a small-group research skills course which includes skills development in: scientific reading and writing, critical analysis and public engagement.

+ For students on a pre-med track, there will be an opportunity to shadow a clinical practitioner and gain experience in a simulated ward and other clinical skills activities. Students are also welcome to attend Medicine Open Days.

Past project examples include:

+ The Molecular Mechanisms Involved In Wound Healing
+ Screening Teratogens to Identify Mechanisms of Action
+ Study of a New Receptor Target for Brain and Spinal Cord Disease
+ Screening Teratogens to Identify Mechanisms of Action
+ Understanding the Role of Inflammation in Type 2 Diabetes and Atherosclerosis

Summer research project opportunities will be published online in late October/early November. Check website then for specifics.

University of Aberdeen

Picture yourself in the great outdoors of northeast Scotland, surrounded by breathtaking scenery and ocean, accompanied by 13,000 other eager students, all looking for a distinctive experience and rigorous academics. Located in Scotland’s third largest city, this institution was founded in 1495.

+ There is a strong emphasis on STEM subjects such as biosciences, engineering, environmental science and hydrocarbon/renewable energy studies, but you may also choose sports management and arts courses.
This internationally ranked technological university is located in the heart of Scotland’s largest and most cosmopolitan city, and features a diverse and walkable experience. Established in 1796, University of Strathclyde characterized itself from its inception as a “place of useful learning” -- a motto you will still see on University buildings.

With over 24,000 students, Strathclyde collaborates most notably with the community through the Glasgow City Innovation District, an entrepreneurial and innovative hub that hosts numerous companies and encourages the development of talent, research, and technology.

+ The Business School at the University of Strathclyde is triple-accredited by AACSB, EUIS, and AMBA – the first school in Scotland to achieve this distinction.

+ Engineering is extremely strong at Strathclyde, with numerous areas of engineering specialization. Offerings include Design Manufacturing and Engineering Management – a unique subject not frequently offered elsewhere.

+ Strathclyde’s Centre for Lifelong Learning offers exciting, credit-bearing courses such as Genealogy, where you can track your family tree; and Stand-Up Comedy, where you can hone your best routine.

This is a unique opportunity to spend your summer working on an independent research project with experts in your chosen field in the charismatic and exciting city of Glasgow. Choose from a variety of summer research projects in biology, geographical and earth sciences, psychology, physics and chemistry. Such work and experience shouldn’t interrupt your academic schedule at home and will resonate strongly with both employers and graduate schools.

+ Faculty mentors will work closely to direct your work and continued growth and development in your chosen research topic.

+ The International Summer School at the University of Glasgow has a full program of extra-curricular activities, in addition to Arcadia-organized excursions.

Past project examples include:

+ Mesophiles and Thermophiles in the Urban Environment
+ Bacteria in Freshwater: A Historical Record of Past Pollution?
+ Genetic Engineering for Agriculture in a Changing Climate
+ Exploring Adolescent Wellbeing in the #Sleepyteens Research Project

Summer research project opportunities will be published online in late October/early November. Check website then for specifics.
Glasgow School of Art

Enjoy your own studio space in this world-class institution, recognized for excellence in teaching and innovation in fine arts and alma mater of several Turner Prize winners and nominees. You will develop your creativity and mature as an artist while mixing with other students, faculty and artists in the eclectic, edgy and dynamic city of Glasgow.

+ Emphasis is placed on studio work and continuous interaction and discussion with your instructors and visiting artists.

Royal Conservatoire of Scotland

If you’re looking to experience world-class training across a wide variety of performing arts and production techniques in a thriving, creative city, this program could be for you. Glasgow is a fabulous backdrop for creative and performing arts with an artistic and edgy feel that supports creativity. The Conservatoire’s close ties with BBC Scotland, the Scottish Ballet, the Scottish Opera and the Royal Scottish National Orchestra enhance the learning experience.

University of Glasgow

The University of Glasgow offers you a large, green campus setting in the upscale West End of Glasgow, a thriving, energetic city with many cultural and social attractions. All Arcadia-organized excursions, events and activities will be open to you to help you find your feet and enjoy everything this dynamic city has to offer. The university itself also offers excellent facilities, clubs and societies.

+ The wide choice of courses range from physics and engineering to law, Scottish literature and film.
University of St Andrews

This world renowned university, founded in 1413, is the oldest in Scotland and one of the top universities in the U.K. Located in a scenic coastal town with two beaches, St Andrews is built out of the ruins of a 12th century cathedral. It has an intimate, friendly feel and close ties with the local community. Notable alumni include the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge, and Ben Franklin received an honorary degree in 1759. Today, everyone can also enjoy the world famous golf course at St. Andrews.

University of Stirling

This unique pastoral campus includes its own loch and the 18th century Airthrey Castle, so if you’re looking for a scenic getaway location, you’ve got it here in the heart of Scotland. Named as Scotland’s University for Sporting Excellence, this institution also has excellent sports and recreation facilities.

+ The curricular structure encourages study across departments, making course choices and flexibility easy.

University of Stirling Summer

University of Stirling Summer allows you to study side-by-side with other international students in an incomparably beautiful area of Scotland. Stirling is perfect for outdoor activities such as walking, canoeing, mountain biking and sailing.

+ Choose from one or two sessions with the opportunity to enroll in a wide variety of areas including business and management, politics, history, sports studies, international relations, English and film and media studies.
